“ My heart broke when I heard that Sister Johnnie Mae had transitioned. She always greeted me with a smile and a hug. When I lived in Auburn, and went to Walmart, I would always look for her. She was a very caring woman, and to know her heart was a blessing. My condolences and prayers to and for her loved ones.

My heartfelt compassion from me and my family (Dallas/Hunt/Moore Family) are shared as you process the transitional (Heavenly bound) journey of your love Johnnie Mae. Be encouraged and of good cheers in knowing that her soul is resting and that you were gifted to witness the love she had for The Lord, her family and friends. When the saints go marching in she'll be in that number wearing her crown and choir robe on. Be blessed.

“ My sincere deepest condolences 🌸 goes to her daughter Cynthia (Cent), and the Maddox and Taylor family. Johnnie Mae was devoted and dedicated to serving GOD. She was always at church every Sunday morning. She had a kind and humble spirit. Cherish the memories of her Cent in your heart and may GOD comfort you during your time of bereavement. GOD bless you! Love your friend and brother Roll. 🤔❤️
