“ When I first met Marcus, it was through employment. From DAY ONE we became friends. He would always tell a joke or make me laugh some kind of way. From his bright smile and his laugh....my goodness! That laugh...It was one of a kind!!! lol! But what amazed me the most.....was his appetite! The man could eat! lol! He would bring a full dinner to lunch and would still snack and work like it was nothing! Lol!
He will definitely be missed!!!
Let us all keep his family and loved one's in prayer for strength during this difficult time.

“ I knew Marcus when he was a student at Sanford Middle School. He was a quiet young man with a big smile. My heart aches from the senseless reason for his untimely death. I pray that Gods' loving arms will surround Lynn and the rest of the family as they try to understand this mystery.

“ Some people move through this world quietly, yet leave echoes that never fade. Marcus (“Wuk”) your presence was one of those echoes —steady, genuine, and felt deeply. Your laughter, your spirit, your way of showing up... it carved a space in my heart that won’t ever be replaced. I’m grateful our paths crossed in this lifetime, grateful to have known the light you carried. May your journey forward be peaceful, and may the love you gave ripple on long after this moment. Rest beautifully. #LLMS

“ To my brother, Wuk... I haven't grasp the concept of you being gone. We have a lifetime of memories. You were such a loving and heartfelt person. You always lifted my spirit when i was sad about my son Cj who you considered your nephew. You looked out for us every chance you could. You will be so truly missed. I will love you always and forever keep your memories alive. I'm so sorry we lost you this way, but i know you're with our ALMIGHTY now. Gone too soon. I love you lil bruh... Until me meet again ok..... Hug my son for me! I love you 💕💕
